

AMOR Y LOCURA - Music of Lovers and Madmen

In this program it is all about Love and Madness. The ensemble addresses a question as old as mankind itself: Can there be passion without insanity? Is passion, after all, emerging from insanity? During the concert, the audience is introduced to the baroque composers' various takes on this matter and as usually Los Temperamentos add to those works their unique Latin American-European inspired way of interpretation. The ensemble will present works by famous Baroque composers as well as rediscovered treasures by still unknown masters: A music full of wild thirst for revenge and baroque reverie interwoven with wonderful intimate moments and lively, danceable improvisations.

A.o. with works by F. Mancini, J. Eccles and P. Giraudo
