

Ciacona Stereo

What do you think of when you hear the word stereo? Audio technology? Headphones? Intended for a modern world and not for a concert with early music...!? Combined with the term ciacona, it suddenly results in a contrasting mixture of old Baroque traditions with a 21st century listening experience, this is what the new Los Temperamentos program is all about. The ensemble picks up various ostinato basses from Europe and Latin America and brings these centuries-old sounds to the stage in a familiar, lively and innovative way with a modern face. There is no trace of dusty baroque sounds! Ciacona Stereo means experiencing Baroque in the here and now, brought to the present with the knowledge of the historical sound quality. Experience masterful works of European composers, colorful sounds from the Caribbean or let yourself be carried away by musical romances into pastoral dreams.

Including works by G.Fr. Handel, J.H. Schmelzer, J.-H. D'Anglebert, as well as works from Mexico, Peru and Venezuela
